2019 ANNUAL MEETING

Dear Colleagues,

I look forward to seeing you at the Bar Association's 2019 Annual Meeting on Thursday and Friday, June 13th and 14th at the Rhode Island Convention Center. This year's hard-working Annual Meeting Planning Committee, ably chaired by Patrick A. Guida, produced a diverse and enriching program for us. Supporting this effort, many Bar members and the Bar staff have worked with the Committee to ensure a seamless presentation of workshops and social events. As a result, our Annual Meeting provides attendees with an outstanding opportunity to learn, improve your practice, socialize with your colleagues, and fulfill your annual CLE requirements.

We have a wide range of seminars scheduled over the two days of the Annual Meeting, providing guidance in family, probate, criminal, trial and commercial law, a variety of ethics-related topics, the always popular State and Federal Court updates and more. These seminars are enhanced by the participation of many distinguished and accomplished presenters, including many of our colleagues. Please also visit our exhibitors offering a range of practice-related products and services.

This year, our Thursday morning plenary speaker is Loretta LaRoche, an international stress management expert who embraces the use of humor as a coping mechanism. She has authored eight best-selling books and has starred in seven PBS shows aired on over eighty stations nationwide. During her presentation, Ms. LaRoche will teach attendees how to let go of their pessimistic thought processes and practice optimism through the use of humor. And, our Friday Afternoon Plenary presentation by Jack Marshall, D.C. and Massachusetts lawyer, former prosecutor, and nationally recognized legal ethics expert, will explore ethical problems and dilemmas using parodies of widely-recognized hits from the 70s and 80s.

On Thursday afternoon, in the midst of a lively reception, we will honor our Annual Bar Award winners (please see page 15 for a complete listing and description of this year's awards) for outstanding achievements. During our Annual Awards Luncheon on Friday, we are honoring our colleagues for their 50 years of service in the profession, following an address by our incoming Bar Association President, David N. Bazar. Additionally, we will have the pleasure of traditional remarks by Supreme Court Chief Justice Paul A. Suttell on the State of the Rhode Island Judiciary.

The 2019 Annual Meeting Planning Committee's attention to our diverse membership's interests and needs results in an excellent program, and I urge you to take advantage of the Annual Meeting's early registration fee savings by completing and sending in your registration form before June 7th.

It has been an honor and pleasure serving you throughout the past year, and, again, I look forward to seeing you on June 13th and 14th.

Carolyn R. Barone, Esq.
President, Rhode Island Bar Association

Stress Less with Humor and Optimism

A life that is fulfilling is predicated on discovering how to use thoughts, feelings, and behaviors to enhance our mental and physical well-being. Many of us go day to day hypnotized by internal dialogue that leads us down the path of negativity and unhappiness. It is often the result of parental and societal messages, but it can also be an inherited predisposition towards depression and/or anxiety. Optimism, which is a resiliency-based model, can be taught. It is not the fairy tale concept of simply thinking positive thoughts, but rather an explanatory style. When we add the ingredient of humor, our ability to handle life’s inevitable ups and downs becomes more accessible. Ms. LaRoche will explore how to shift from pessimistic thoughts that create feelings of failure and rejection to those that are more optimistic, how purpose and passion help to enhance meaning in one’s life, and how fun can be the antidote to stress.

Loretta LaRoche

Loretta LaRoche is an international stress management expert who embraces the use of humor as a coping mechanism. She has authored eight best-selling books and has starred in seven PBS shows aired in over eighty stations nationwide. She was an adjunct faculty member at the Mind/Body Medical Institute an affiliate of Harvard Medical School for fifteen years. She has shared the stage with former President Bill Clinton, Tony Robbins, Dr. Phil, Suze Orman, Arianna Huffington, Quincy Jones, Ellen DeGeneres and a host of other dignitaries and celebrities. Her signature humor is her ability to observe the absurdities that are so much a part of the human condition and culture which often lead to stress.

MEETING EXHIBITORS offer a wide range of helpful, practice-related products and services including appraisal services, website development, retirement plans, record management, law practice software, computer support, court reporting, mediation services, title services, and more. Rhode Island Bar Foundation Fellows Annual Meeting

Convention Center, 1st Floor

Fellows and invited guests receive a separate invitation for this luncheon.

Michael A. St. Pierre, Esq.
President

The Rhode Island Bar Foundation Fellows Annual Meeting is held in conjunction with the Rhode Island Bar Association Annual Meeting. President Michael A. St. Pierre and the Board of Directors are pleased to welcome and thank the Foundation Fellows who, through their professional, public and private careers, have demonstrated outstanding dedication to the welfare of the community and to the objectives of the Foundation. During the luncheon we recognize the recipient organizations of Interest on Lawyers Trust Account (IOLTA) grants. $393,109 was granted this calendar year for the provision of legal services and the administration of justice in Rhode Island.

Recipients of the Thomas F. Black, Jr., Memorial Law School Scholarship are introduced. Again this year, with the continued generosity of The Horace A. Kimball and S. Ella Kimball Foundation and The Champlin Foundation, we were able to grant two $20,000 Thomas F. Black, Jr. Memorial Scholarships to two promising first-year law students from Rhode Island who have demonstrated financial need, superior academic performance, community and public service, and demonstrated contacts with and commitment to the State of Rhode Island. Since 1989, this fund has awarded 64 scholarships, totaling many thousands of dollars to promising law students from Rhode Island.

The recipients of the Honorable Thomas J. Caldarone, Jr. Fellowship Award are also introduced. Law students are selected for this award based on their outstanding record and interest in pursuing a career in public service. Caldarone Fellows receive valuable experience in assisting with providing crucial legal services to the public and persons of limited means in the State of Rhode Island.

Best Practices for Board Governance: Cautionary Tales for Nonprofits

1.0 CREDIT + .5 ETHICS

LEVEL – INTERMEDIATE

Presenters: Elizabeth Manchester, Esq., Partridge, Snow & Hahn
 Katherine Kishfy, Esq., Hinckley Allen
 Rebecca E. Dupras, Esq., Orson & Brusini, Ltd.

There have been several national stories that have resulted in formerly highly respected nonprofits being accused of abuse in the wake of the #MeToo movement and other misconduct, causing executives to leave organizations and funders to think twice about supporting these organizations. Whether you are serving on a board, advising clients who are board members or funders or represent charities, it is critical to understand the basics of board governance to protect yourself and your clients from legal and reputational risks. The panelists cover some of these cautionary tales and provide insight into minimizing risk.

The Legal Technology Jungle: Surviving the Law's Newest and Greatest Ethics Challenge

1.5 ETHICS

LEVEL – ALL

Presenter: Jack Marshall, Esq., ProEthics, Ltd.

This break-out session explores the rapidly proliferating ethical challenges of practicing law with and around technology, while recommending steps even the most tech-addled lawyers can and should take to protect clients and themselves. Using hypothetical-based problems and an interactive, entertaining format, the seminar covers a wide range of areas in a stimulating and engaging, if occasionally terrifying, manner, including the duty to protect clients from themselves, confidentiality threats, keeping current on technology, how the Rules of Professional Conduct apply to uses of technology, and where the rules provide insufficient guidance or are behind the curve. The presenter includes examples related to social media, email, text messaging, personal devices, the cloud, e-discovery, big data ethics, new technologies, and more.

Ethics Rock Extreme!

1.0 ETHICS

Mike Messer

Using parodies of widely-recognized hits from the 70s and 80s, Ethics Rock Extreme! explores current ethical problems and dilemmas in an entertaining manner. Supported by the strains of rock classics by Freddie Mercury, Don Henley, Sting, Gerry Rafferty, Paul Simon, Bob Dylan, Billy Joel, Harry Chapin, and the ever-classic Lennon/McCartney, Ethics Rock Extreme! tackles ethics issues such as:

- Firm hand-offs from transactional to litigation
- How to be ethical when a partner has screwed up
- When impairment becomes a firm ethics matter
- Why it's harder to be ethical now
- Non-verbal lies from witnesses and clients on the stand
- The public records exception, and opposing former clients
- Up to the minute technological competence and confidentiality traps
- The limits of advocacy
- Conduct “prejudicial to the administration of justice”...or not
- Internal investigations of a corporate client, and many more.

There is no faster paced, more up-to-date, memorable and challenging way for an attorney to fulfill the legal ethics requirement. The songs will be expertly arranged and performed by New York musician, actor, and rock singer Mike Messer. Messer is a singer and actor who has been performing nationally and internationally for 18 years.

Jack Marshall, Esq.

Jack Marshall, who founded and has served as president and CEO of ProEthics, Ltd. for 22 years, has created more than 240 interactive ethics programs for bar associations, law firms, Fortune 500 companies, local and national government agencies, trade associations, and non-profit organizations. He also has worked to develop rules of professional responsibility for attorneys in emerging African democracies through the International Bar Association, and for the judiciary of the post-Soviet Republic of Mongolia, through USAID.

A member of the Massachusetts and District of Columbia Bar Associations, Marshall has served as adjunct professor of legal ethics at the American University School of Law in Washington, D.C. A graduate of Harvard College, where he specialized in American government and leadership, and Georgetown University Law Center, he practiced criminal law in Massachusetts and organization law in the District of Columbia, and led non-profit organizations devoted to education, public policy research, and health. Marshall's articles and commentary on topics ranging from leadership to ethics to popular culture have appeared in numerous regional and national periodicals, and his ethics analysis has been featured on a wide variety of talk shows, from the Montel Williams Show to Neil Cavuto's "News Hour" to PBS's "Religion and Ethics Weekly" to National Public Radio's "Tell Me More." In 2014 he was also named to the "Top 100 Thought Leaders in Trustworthy Business" (trustacrossamerica.com). Marshall is also an award-winning stage director, and for 20 years served as the artistic director for The American Century Theater, a professional non-profit theater company dedicated to producing classic American plays. He lives in Alexandria, Virginia with his wife and business partner, Grace Marshall, their son Grant, and their Jack Russell Terrier, Rugby. Like many who are interested in the nature of good, evil, justice, and chaos, Marshall is a lifetime fan of the Boston Red Sox.
