Dear Colleagues,

I look forward to seeing you, virtually, at the Bar Association's 2021 Annual Meeting on Wednesday and Thursday, June 23rd and 24th. While this year’s hard-working Annual Meeting Planning Committee, ably chaired by Nicole J. Benjamin, had initially hoped to produce an in-person meeting this year, it was forced to change gears late last year due to the uncertainty of the pandemic. The Planning Committee turned the challenge into a strength, and we are now able to present you with an incredible program featuring a diverse schedule of workshops that has something for all practitioners. While everyone in attendance will be experiencing our Annual Meeting in this new virtual format on the interactive Eventmobi platform, we have focused on not straying too far from what attendees appreciated and looked forward to during our past in-person conferences.

Our program includes some of the usual favorites, including the always popular state and federal court updates. I am eagerly looking forward to the presentation by our Thursday morning plenary speakers, the Honorable O. Rogeriee Thompson of the United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit and the Honorable John J. McConnell, Jr., Chief Judge of the United States District Court for the District of Rhode Island. As always, we have a variety of ethics-related topics, and attendees are able to earn as many as 9.5 credits over the course of the two-day program. We understand that the MCLE requirement has been suspended for the 2021 reporting year, but please remember that credits can be carried over to 2022. I urge you to take advantage of the incredible and exclusive pricing we are offering for this event; you won’t find value like this anywhere, and we are so grateful for the hard work and preparation our presenters have contributed to create this fantastic program.

Traditionally, we have an Annual Awards Reception on the first day of our Meeting followed by our Annual Luncheon on day two. This year, we have decided that we will combine the events into one in-person event, our Annual Meeting Luncheon, on Friday, June 25th at the Crowne Plaza in Warwick in their tented Pavilion. We will hear a brief update on Bar Foundation activities, honor our awards winners from 2020 and 2021, hear RI Supreme Court Chief Justice Paul A. Suttell’s traditional perspective on the state of the Judiciary, and swear-in our incoming president, Lynda L. Laing. We hope you will consider joining us as we will ensure precautions are taken to ensure the safety of our guests.

I thank you for the honor and pleasure of serving you throughout the past year and hope you will take advantage of this tremendous opportunity.

Richard P. D’Addario, Esq.

Lisy, Esq., Manatt, Phelps &amp; Phillips, LLP&lt;br&gt;At the beginning of 2020, the force majeure clause was thought of, if at all, as a boilerplate checklist item and, occasionally, the subject of esoteric contract law exam questions. Now, however, the legal concept is at the top of mind for many as a result of the unprecedented response to the COVID-19 pandemic. This seminar surveys Rhode Island law, such as it is, concerning the basics of various contractual force majeure clauses, how they are interpreted by courts, and whether and to what extent the related defenses of impracticability, impossibility, and frustration of purpose might excuse one or both parties’ obligations due to the ongoing pandemic.</td>

Circuit Judge O. Rogeriee Thompson currently serves as a Circuit Judge for the First Circuit Court of Appeals. Appointed by President Barack Obama and unanimously confirmed by the U.S. Senate in 2010, Judge Thompson is the first African-American and the second woman to serve on the First Circuit Court of Appeals. Previously, she was an Associate Justice for the Rhode Island Superior Court, a position she held from 1997 to April, 2010. Before that, she was an Associate Judge with the Rhode Island District Court for nine years. During her 44-year law career, Judge Thompson has been a senior partner with Thompson & Thompson, assistant city solicitor for the City of Providence, an associate with the law firm of McKinnon and Fortunato, and a senior staff attorney for Rhode Island Legal Services, Inc. An author and consultant, she has served on numerous committees and boards. Some of her current activities include the U.S. Supreme Court Committee on Information Technology, the First Circuit Judicial Council and First Circuit IT Committee, Brown University Emeriti Council, Rhode Island Save The Bay Leadership Council, and College Unbound Board of Trustees. A recipient of numerous awards and honors, Judge Thompson earned her A.B. degree at Brown University in 1973 and her J.D. from Boston University School of Law in 1976. She holds honorary degrees from the University of Rhode Island, Bryant University, Roger Williams University School of Law, and Johnson and Wales University. Judge Thompson was married to the late Rhode Island District Court Judge William C. Clifton, and she is the proud mother of Reza, William, Jr., and Sarah Clifton.

Chief Judge John J. McConnell, Jr. is the Chief Judge of the United States District Court for the District of Rhode Island. President Barack Obama nominated him to the bench and the U.S. Senate confirmed the nomination in May 2011. He is now one of three U.S. District Court Judges in Rhode Island. In addition to his administrative duties as Chief Judge, he hears both civil and criminal cases. U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice John G. Roberts, Jr. appointed him to serve as a member of the Committee on Codes of Conduct of the Judicial Conference of the United States. He is also a past member of the First Circuit Judicial Council and the First Circuit Jury Plan Committee. Before becoming a judge, Chief Judge McConnell was a trial attorney for 25 years. He clerked for Associate Justice of the R.I. Supreme Court Donald F. Shea. Chief Judge McConnell is chairperson of the Board of Crossroads RI, the state’s largest provider of services to those experiencing homelessness, and is on the Board of the Nonviolence Institute. Chief Judge McConnell, born in Providence, R.I., received his A.B. from Brown University in 1980 with a concentration in Urban Studies and his J.D. from Case Western Reserve University School of Law in 1983, where he received the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Award. He is married to Sara Shea McConnell, and they have three children.

Lisa Kresge, Esq., Brennan, Recupero, Cascione, Scungio & McAllister, LLP
Thomas S. Hemmendinger, Esq., Brennan, Recupero, Cascione, Scungio & McAllister, LLP

A review of various commercial law-related court decisions from around the United States with some emphasis on Rhode Island Supreme Court, Superior Court, and U.S. District Court cases decided in the RI District Court and for which written decisions were issued during the last 12 months.

Don’t Take It Personal: Constitutional Limits on the Courts’ Power to Exercise Personal Jurisdiction Over Defendants
1.5 credits - Level: All

Moderator:  Zachary Mandell, Esq., Mandell, Boisclair & Mandell
Speakers:  John F. Kelleher, Esq., LaSalle & Kelleher, P.C.
Hon. Brian P. Stern, RI Superior Court

The U.S. Supreme Court has recently examined the limits of personal jurisdiction in a pair of consolidated cases involving Ford Motor Company. The Due Process Clause permits a court to exercise specific personal jurisdiction over an out-of-state defendant when the plaintiff’s claims arise out of or relate to the defendant’s forum activities. This workshop discusses what Rhode Island practitioners need to know about personal jurisdiction, and the local implications of the Court’s decision in the Ford cases.

View from the Bench: Link Between Animal Abuse and Domestic Violence
1.5 credits - Level: Beginner

Moderator:  Lenore Montanaro, Esq., Animal Law Committee Chairperson
Speakers:  Hon. Paul T. Jones, Jr., RI Family Court
Hon. Jeanne L. Shepard, RI Family Court

There are significant correlations between abuse against people and abuse against animals. Listen to two members of the Judiciary within the RI Family Court discuss the link between animal cruelty and domestic violence.

Presenters:
- Steven O. Weise, Esq., Prosauker Rose, LLP
- Edwin Smith, Esq., Morgan Lewis & Bockus, LLP
- Patrick A. Guida, Esq., Duffy & Sweeney, Ltd.
- Lisa Kresge, Esq., Brennan, Recupero, Cascione, Scungio & McAllister, LLP
- Thomas S. Hemmendinger, Esq., Brennan, Recupero, Cascione, Scungio & McAllister, LLP

Part two of the panelists’ review of various commercial law related court decisions from around the United States with some emphasis on Rhode Island Supreme Court, Superior Court, and U.S. District Court cases decided in the RI District Court and for which written decisions were issued during the last 12 months.

Court Costs, Fees, & Assessments in Criminal Cases

1.5 credits - Level: Intermediate

Presenters:
- Natalia N. Friedlander, Esq., RI Center for Justice
- Jennifer L. Wood, Esq., RI Center for Justice
- Michael A. DiLauro, Esq., Assistant Public Defender and Director of Training & Legislative Liaison

Most people believe (correctly) that both the United States and Rhode Island Supreme Courts have ruled that it is unconstitutional to imprison a person simply because they are poor. But the devil is in the details. Lower courts not only in Rhode Island but across the United States have found creative ways to do just that. The presenters discuss and review: the “lay of the land” under both state and federal law; legislation passed by the General Assembly in 2008 that reformed the ways in which court costs, fees, fines, and restitution were supposed to be handled; ways to enforce these reforms are handled properly; and whether it is wise to use the state’s judicial system to raise money for the state.
A Progress Report on Lawyer Well-Being
1.5 credits - Level: All

Moderator: Nicholas Trott Long, Esq., Lawyers Helping Lawyers Committee Chairperson

Speakers: Stacie Collier, Esq., Nixon Peabody, LLP
           Cassandra Feeney, Esq., Hamel, Waxler, Allen & Collins, P.C.
           Charlene Pratt, Esq., RI Office of the Public Defender

This session presents the progress made and continuing challenges in Rhode Island and the national effort to improve lawyer well-being.
